LAURIE SHAWHAN

Sister Laurie Shawhan, our newest tent member was instrumental in founding the Cordelia A.P. Harvey Tent #21 in Manitowoc, WI and was their first President. She has also served as the tent secretary. Laurie and her husband Don are active Civil War re-enactors. Her Civil War knowledge is extensive and she is a welcome addition to our tent!

DELAVAN'S 4TH OF JULY PARADE

Charlene Staples and Pat Blackmer participated in the Delavan 4th of July parade, riding with Ken Wargo in his truck (below). He had decorated it with our Tent's banner, the Civil War monument banners, and an "Old Abe" eagle above a banner announcing the 150th anniversary of the Civil War. The weather was perfect and there was a great turnout for the parade.

2014 WCHS ENCAMPMENT

Continuing to fulfill the mission of collecting, preserving and sharing the rich history of Walworth County the Walworth County Historical Society (WCHS) hosted an encampment commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Civil War and the Spanish American War of 1898. Participants included the Grand Army of the Republic, Post #8 Senior Re-enactors from Wisconsin and members of the Sons of Spanish American War Veterans from Illinois. In addition, a women's civilian camp was set up by the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Cordelia Harvey Tent #21 of Manitowoc. Special events included a picnic dinner hosted by the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Mary Chesebro Lee, Tent #23 of Delavan who also provided the campers with breakfast the following morning, a flag raising ceremony, an old-fashioned camp worship service and an ice cream social hosted by the WCHS on Sunday. During the ice cream social, the "Outdated D's", a roving barbershop quartet entertained the visitors. While weather was a factor Saturday evening and caused a great deal of excitement when torrential rains hit the camp, Sunday was beautiful and the events were well attended. The re-enactors enjoyed the event so much that plans are in the works for a return in 2015. (Article by Pat Blackmer)

“According to army regulations for camp rations, a Union soldier was entitled to receive daily 12 oz of pork or bacon or 1 lb. 4 oz of fresh or salt beef; 1 lb. 6 oz of soft bread or flour, 1 lb. of hard bread, or 1 lb. 4 oz of cornmeal. Per every 100 rations there was issued 1 peck of beans or peas; 10 lb. of rice or hominy; 10 lb. of green coffee, 8 lb. of roasted and ground coffee, or 1 lb. 8 oz of tea; 15 lb. of sugar; 1 lb. 4 oz of candles, 4 lb. of soap; 1 qt of molasses. In addition to or as substitutes for other items, desiccated vegetables, dried fruit, pickles, or pickled cabbage might be issued. The marching ration consisted of 1 lb. of hard bread, 3/4 lb. of salt pork or 1 1/4 lb. of fresh meat, plus the sugar, coffee, and salt. The ration lacked variety but in general the complaints about starvation by the older soldiers was largely exaggerated. Generally the Confederate ration, though smaller in quantity after the spring of 1862 and tending to substitute cornmeal for wheat flour, was little different.” (information from <http://www.civilwarhome.com/rations.html>)

"Why do they call them civil wars when they always are so extraordinarily uncivil?" — Elizabeth Fitch

Did you know.....that Robert E. Lee was born in the same room as two signers of the Declaration of Independence ? His uncles Richard Henry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee.

...that Abraham Lincoln was never heard to use the term "the enemy" to refer to the Confederate States?

...that Ulysses S. Grant's memoirs were published by Mark Twain after his death?
